HAPPY SUMMER!

Barring any late breaking news or talks to publish, this will likely be the last issue of Connection for the academic year. Happy trails to those of you who are moving on to greener pastures! We hope you have enjoyed your time here. A reminder that if you have keys to return, please bring them down to the WJH Operations Office before you leave. Happy summer to all!

FREE BOOKS!

Professor Kelman is downsizing his extensive book collection and hopes to pass some on to Psychology affiliates. If you are interested, please stop by WJH 1308 between 1-5 on weekdays or email dealba@fas.harvard.edu to set up an appointment. We currently have close to 1000 books to give away on a variety of topics.

MONDAY

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY: INEQUALITY AND SOCIAL POLICY SEMINAR

7

MAY

Gabriel Zucman (UC Berkeley)

The missing profits of nations

DEPT OF PSYCHOLOGY: ORAL DISSERTATION DEFENSE

7

MAY

David Levari (Psychology)

Prevalence-induced concept change in human judgment

WEDNESDAY

DEPT OF PSYCHOLOGY: ORAL DISSERTATION DEFENSE

9

MAY

Alexandra Rodman (Psychology)

The value and utilization of social evaluative feedback: A neurodevelopmental perspective

WEDNESDAY

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY: COLLOQUIUM

9

MAY

Matthew Botvinick (University College London)

Deep reinforcement learning: Recent developments and some implications for psychology