WELCOME BACK!

Welcome back, everyone! Hope you all enjoyed the break, and that 2019 is going well for you so far. This is the first issue of Connection for the Spring semester. This is your weekly newsletter, which is published on Mondays during the academic year. Connection lists talks and events going on in the building, and elsewhere on campus that may be of interest to members of the WJH community. If you are running a talk series or have events you’d like us to publish, please note the format that we use, and send your submissions to me at the email address listed in the masthead above. We also run classified ads for those of you have things to buy or sell, or are looking to sublet an apartment, and other things, space permitting. There is no charge for listing these. Please note the deadline for all submissions is 12:00 noon on Thursdays. If you have an entire semester’s schedule for your talk series, please send it to us, and we’ll pre-format the information and plug it in weekly. Connection is published on the WJH website at https://buildingops.wjh.harvard.edu/ A link to the newsletter will be emailed to all WJH occupants weekly.
